Manufacturer: maxicrop

MaxiCrop MaxiCrop Kelp Meal 5 lb. (MCKELP5LB)Maxicrop Kelp Meal is a Norwegian Kelp, one of the richest known sources of at least 60 minerals and elements, 12 vitamins, and 21 amino acids. It has been harvested, dried, processed with a patented process, then blended and ground to a 14 mesh size. When used as a soil conditioner, Maxicrop Kelp Meal will improve any deficiencies, thereby adding to the nutrition of vegetables from your garden. It can also be incorporated into potting soils, seed and transplant beds, as well as composting material to improve the health of all your outdoor or indoor plants. It will add organic matter to your soil and help it retain moisture. It will enhance healthy root growth. Maxicrop Kelp Meal is also feed grade, so it can be fed to all animals to improve their health and size. Many studies have been done that prove its benefits. A small amount improves the utilization of standard feed mixes. Kelp Meal enhances the flexibility and sheen of the skin and coat in dogs, cats, and horses - a good measure of overall health. Note for sale in OR.
