Roots Organics Roots Organics cocopalms 1.5 cu.ft (ROCP) Roots Organics cocopalms is the result of years of research into what makes the best coco growing medias.

Roots Organics cocopalms has a near perfect natural pH level (5.2 - 6.3) for optimum nutrient uptake and has a superb air-to-water ratio making it an ideal material to use as an amendment, mulch, incorporate into the perfect hydro media or plant straight into it for the right applications. Roots Organics cocopalms is made from coconut husk, a more environmentally friendly material compared to peat which is mined from sensitive bogs. Aurora has specially designed cocopalms with a natural buffer to make it more user friendly when used straight or in higher percentages of a media as an amendment. Deliberately enhanced ratios of fiber to dust calculated specifically as the ultimate growing media for vigorous plants.
